Each year, you have to write updates to the NIH about the work you have accomplished so far. This includes how well you have met your proposed milestones, and how you will continue progress to accomplish your final goals. Please include:

- A revised set of aims for the proposal, and a description of whether/how they have changed.
- The set of reviewer comments that you have addressed and how you have addressed them.
- Any preliminary results you have obtained thus far.
- The remaining “TODO” items you intend to accomplish by the end of the term.

You will receive responses from the staff, including your project score, by December 2.
